

ABOUT STEVE

Described by my colleagues as having high intellect and high integrity, my closest friends would add serious and deeply thoughtful, but also whimsical, light-hearted, and fiercely generous and kind.

As a man of faith, I operate from a deep and abiding sense of commitment – to my family, community, and an ever-expanding sphere of concerns where I might make a substantive and lasting impact. While described as a leader, I only really care about making a difference.

Giving, and giving generously, is my 'Why'.
